The extent of the Federation's waters are shown on the maps in this Handbook and although accurate at the date of publication are subject to revision from time to time. The boundaries of such waters are marked with white posts or some other feature, if in doubt as to the rights to fish, anglers should seek confirmation to avoid risk of prosecution. Where the Board considers it necessary, changes to the extent or boundaries of Federation waters will be published on the Federation's website.

In addition to the waters shown on the maps, The Federation has acquired fishing rights on the River Till and Wooler Water. These rights are subject to special rules which are published on the Federation website and it is not possible to fish them without making prior arrangements with the Head Bailiff. Anglers will also need to familiarise themselves with the Tweed Commission Rules and Regulations, including those relating to grayling.

ANGLING RULES

N.B. These rules are subject to all relevant Environmental Agency bylaws and anglers must familiarise themselves with all new bylaws particularly relating to catch and release method of fishing and permitted tackle.

- (b) Fly only permitted at Felton and Mouldhaugh downstream to the limit shown on map 2 unless river height exceeds 1ft marker on Felton Bridge.
- (c) Anglers are reminded of the provisions in the National Rivers Authority Bylaws prohibiting fishing within 25 metres upstream and 100 metres downstream of dams, weirs, artificial obstructions (e.g. bridge footings) and Thrum Mill Falls during September and October and at all times between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise.
- (d) All fishing is prohibited on the River Coquet below Warkworth Dam in extreme low water conditions as determined by the Head Bailiff. It is the responsibility of every angler to ensure that fishing is not prohibited and if in doubt advice should be sought from one of the Federation's bailiffs before fishing.

6. Statutory provisions:

All anglers should be familiar with:

- (a) the current EA bylaws which apply to all anglers fishing Federation waters; and
- (b) the provisions of the Salmon & Freshwater Fisheries Act 1975. A breach of any of these statutory provisions will result in the cancellation of a permit and risk of prosecution.

7. General:

- (a) The bag limit per angler per day for brown trout is 2 brace.
- (b) No coarse fishing is permitted in the River Coquet or its tributaries and any coarse fish caught must be killed and removed from the water.

- (e) Permits must be carried at all times when fishing, and be produced for inspection at the request of any Federation bailiff or officer, EA employee, Northumberland Estates employee or other Federation permit holder.
- (f) All tackle, baits, equipment and fish caught must be produced for inspection at the request of any Federation officer or bailiff.
- (g) No fish caught in Federation waters shall be sold or offered for resale.
- (h) No camping, boating, bathing or fires are permitted.
- (i) All foul-hooked fish must be returned to the water immediately, causing as little harm as possible.
- (j) All waters must be approached by recognised access without committing trespass.
- (k) All breaches of Federation Rules or statutory provisions must be reported to the Head Bailiff or the Secretary without delay.
- (l) Any angler fishing with worm shall withdraw from the water when required to allow any angler fishing with fly or spinner to pass down stream.

SAFETY

All anglers should take care whilst fishing, particularly when wading. Be careful when back casting if there are other persons behind you, particularly non-anglers.

Be extra careful if there are overhead wires or cables nearby, especially when using carbon fibre rods. Carbon fibre is a high conductor of electricity, and contact with electric power lines can kill or cause severe burns.

COURTESY

Anglers should keep moving when fishing all waters and not start to fish in front of an angler already fishing - start behind.

Avoid trespass and close all gates behind you.

Keep any dog on a leash.

Park your car with care and consideration. Do not obstruct any gates, openings, roads or ways.

Take all litter, including discarded line, home with you.

Observe the Country Code and the Game Angling Code.

POLLUTION

Any incident of pollution on Federation Waters should be reported immediately to the Head Bailiff and the Environmental Agency. The Pollution Incident Hotline No. is 0800 807060.

CATCH AND RELEASE

Anglers are encouraged to return undamaged fish to the water, particularly hen salmon and sea trout and any coloured fish.

Coloured fish, especially in October represent the future of the river and the Trustees are keen to see these fish being returned to the water as carefully as possible and not killed.

STOCKING

The trustees have decided to discontinue stocking Federation waters with Brown Trout. This follows a recommendation from the Wild Trout Trust and is in line with policies on other northern rivers.

COMPETITIONS

1. The angler proven to have caught the first fresh salmon of the season on the river Coquet will hold the Coquet Trophy for one year and receive three year's free permits and a replica of the Trophy to retain.
2. The anglers proven to have caught the heaviest salmon and brown trout on any Federation water in each year will hold the Centenary Cup for such fish for one year and receive a free salmon or trout permit for one year.
3. A trophy in memory of Jim Hardy, former Federation Chairman for many years, will be awarded to the angler catching the heaviest sea trout on Federation waters, to be held for one year.

GENERAL

It is in the interests of all anglers that permit holders should observe Federation Rules and all relevant statutory provisions, and anglers are reminded that the Board has unlimited discretion to cancel permits without refund of fees paid and to refuse future applications for permits. The presence of nets, fixed lines or other illegal devices should be reported immediately to the Head Bailiff or EA. Do not touch or remove them as this can prevent a successful prosecution.
